

Confused.com
QuickQuote

Get a quote >

- HOME
- INVESTING
- NEWS & OPINION
- MY PORTFOLIOS
- PERSONAL FINANCE
- PROPERTY
- REAL MONEY
- SMALL BUSINESS

PHOTOS

Enter Symbol

Look Up

Thu, Oct 17, 2013, 13:45 BST - UK Markets close in 2 hrs 45 mins

Help to buy a £600,000 home - what's on offer?

Homes up to £800,000 will qualify for assistance under the Help To Buy scheme. So if you have a deposit of 5% and the income to meet repayments - just what kind of homes will the Government's generosity stretch to? We take a look...

SHOW THUMBNAILS ↓

View All

1 of 14 photos

Next >

Canary Wharf, London; £600,000

You'd certainly thank George Osborne for assistance in buying a two-bedroom apartment in Canary Wharf's tallest residential tower. Alongside stunning views of London, the development also features a swimming pool, health club, restaurant and cocktail bar. Baltimore Tower

Share 1
 Tweet

Share
 +1

UK: Avoid NHS Queues with Private Medical Insurance from £1 per day.

Select Your Age:

<	28	29	30	31	32	33	34
35	36	37	38	39	40	41	42
43	44	45	46	47	48	49	50
51	52	53	54	55	56	57	58
59	60	61	62	63	64	65	>

YAHOO! FINANCE

Fri, Oct 11, 2013 12:00 BST

All Comments

Leave a comment...

Comment Guidelines

Post As

3 Comments

Popular Now | Newest | Oldest | Most Replied

Charlie Manson • 4 days ago | Report Abuse

4 2

has Cameron lost the plot ? he can give out home loans ? but why does he inflict the bedroom tax on the poor. BAN THE BEDROOM TAX NOW CAMERON.

1 Reply

BusinessMan • 3 days ago | Report Abuse

0 0

Hopefully next summer.

1 Reply

Barry Obama • 3 days ago | Report Abuse

0 0

This would be the place for me but I'd really love to have a place like this in New York City was above Time Square.

1 Reply

Post a comment

LATEST SLIDESHOWS

Homes of the future - today

Help to buy a £600,000 home - what's on offer?

Celebrity bankrupts

Stunning eco homes