

Addresses with distinction

With over 20 years' experience of building spectacular town houses and apartments in the capital and beyond, Galliard Homes is now introducing its exclusive Platinum collection. Quality of construction and desirability of location have always been company watchwords, but the diverse accommodation in this portfolio offers absolute distinction, whether for dramatic views, prestigious West End addresses or world-class architecture.

Situated in Greenwich, one of London's four World Heritage Sites, New Capital Quay is springing up on the south side of the Thames. As well as sophisticated living space (apartments start at £295,000), the site uniquely offers river frontage on three sides. Over on the Strand, Norman Foster & Partners has been designing magnificent apartments and penthouses behind a Grade II-listed façade adjoining a five-star hotel. Meanwhile, a stone's throw from Marble Arch, six chic flats in Great Cumberland Place (prices from £2.3 million) feature smart-home technology and are accessed by private lifts. Further north in affluent Belsize Park, a cluster of town houses, duplexes and apartments (from £1.65 million) benefit from a host of upmarket features. As the Platinum collection shows, all that glitters is not gold.
